“COMMITTED
WITH A HEALTHY LIFE”

Shanantina SAC,
was founded
in October 2007,
Lamas- San Martín,

We are committed to a healthy life, therefore, we produce, process and market at a national and international level derived from Amazonian biodiversity that is distinguished by its excellent quality and original flavors.

Our main production line is sacha inchik
derivatives.

Our products are manufactured using only sacha inchik seeds harvested from lands belonging to native communities. The agricultural process is certified organic and farmers apply traditional techniques, knowledge and technology with great care and awareness. Shanantina's products are manufactured respecting Biocommerce principles and criteria.

Sacha Inchi is a seed native to the Peruvian Amazon which has been used by the native people of Peru for at least 2000 years. Sacha Inchi contains high levels of both omega 3 and 6 and is considered a nutritious supplement to a healthy diet.

By purchasing these products,
you contribute both with the sustainable development of sachá inchi

as well as help to improve the living conditions of the native farmer communities in the Lamas and Bellavista Region
in San Martín - Perú.
